

MERCER HOTELES

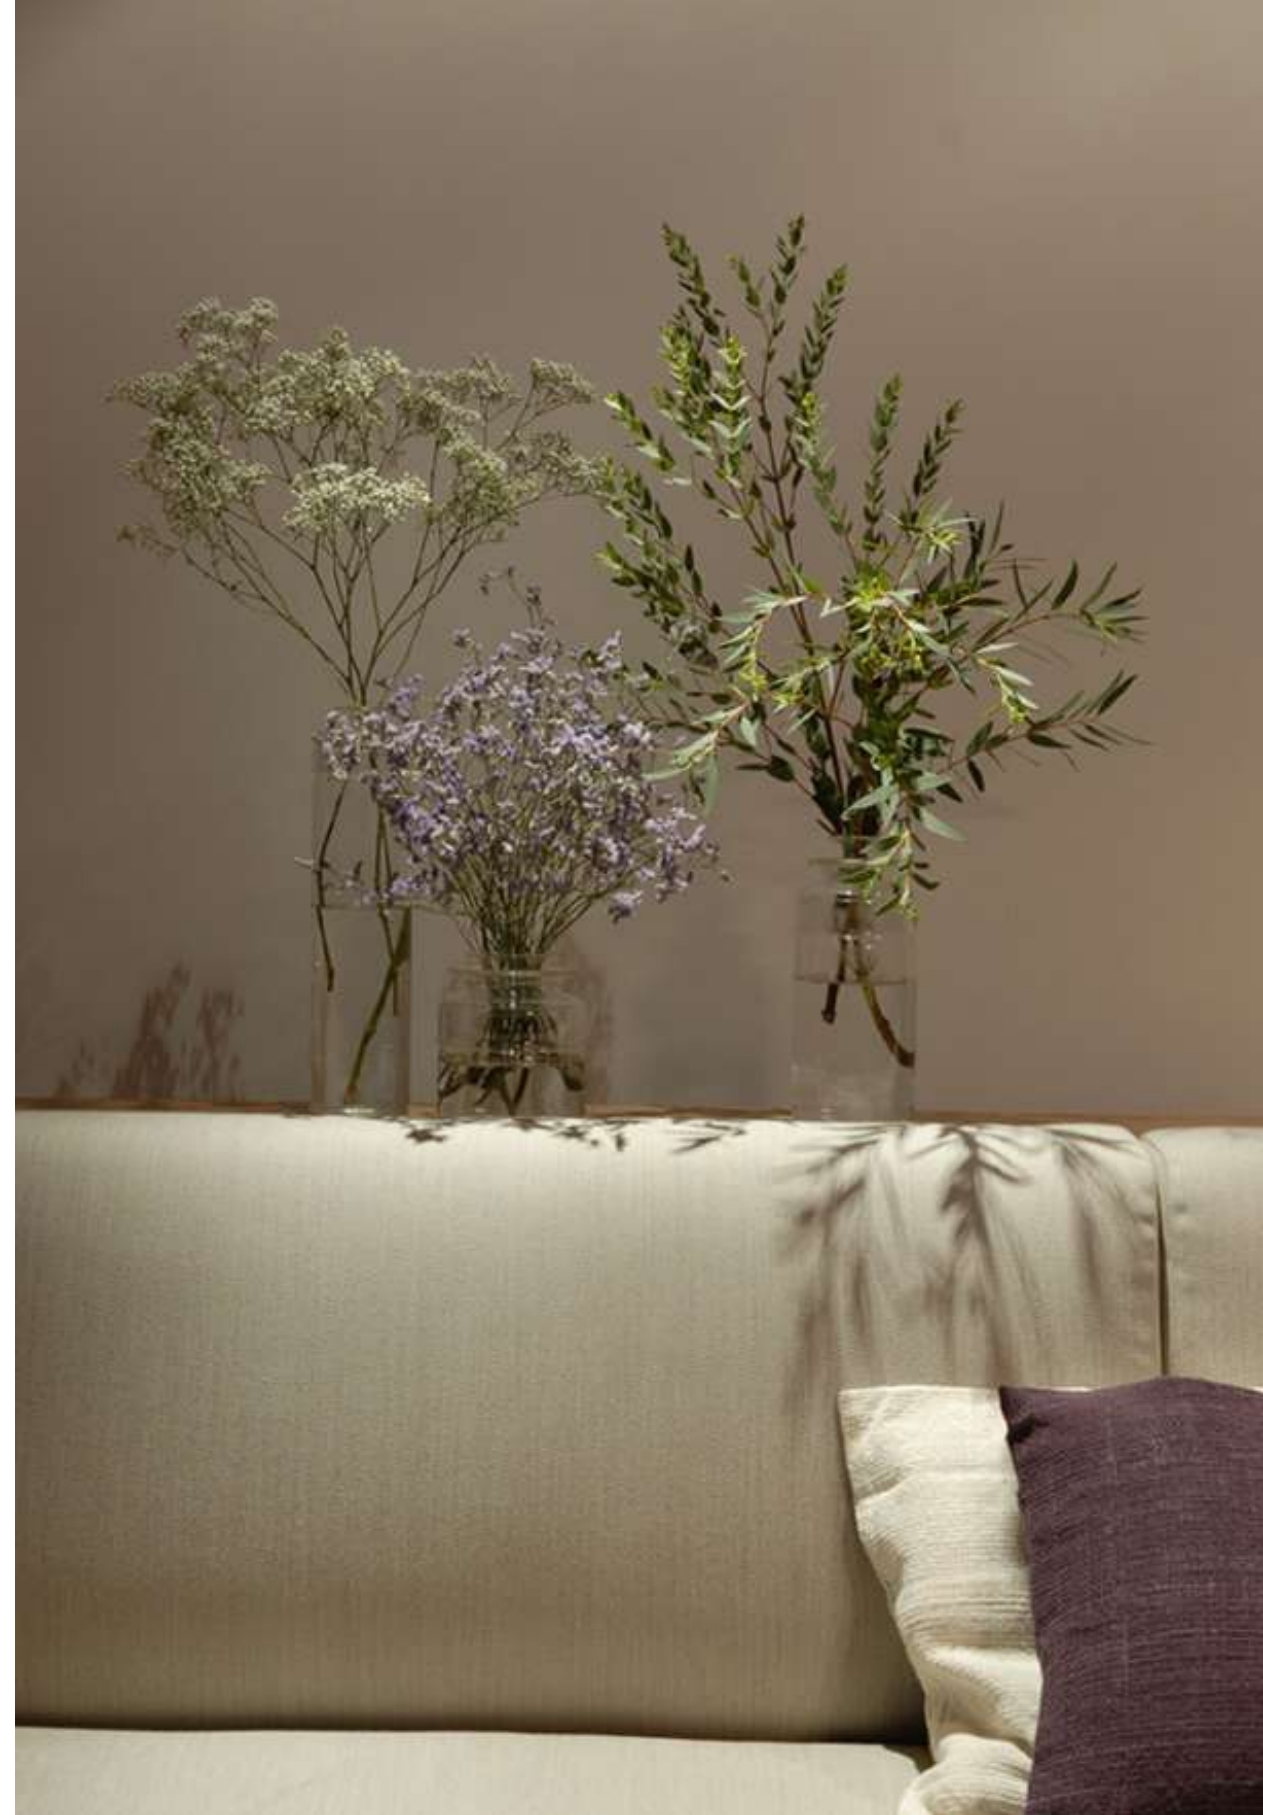

Casa Torner i Güell

In the wine capital

The Mercer Casa Torner i Güell is a small four-star hotel in the historic centre of Vilafranca del Penedès in a Catalan Art Nouveau building dating from 1884. An architectural work of eclectic style in which Modernist aspects predominate. It was one of the first houses built with exposed brick, ceramic on the façade and wrought iron on the balconies, three characteristics of local Modernist architecture.

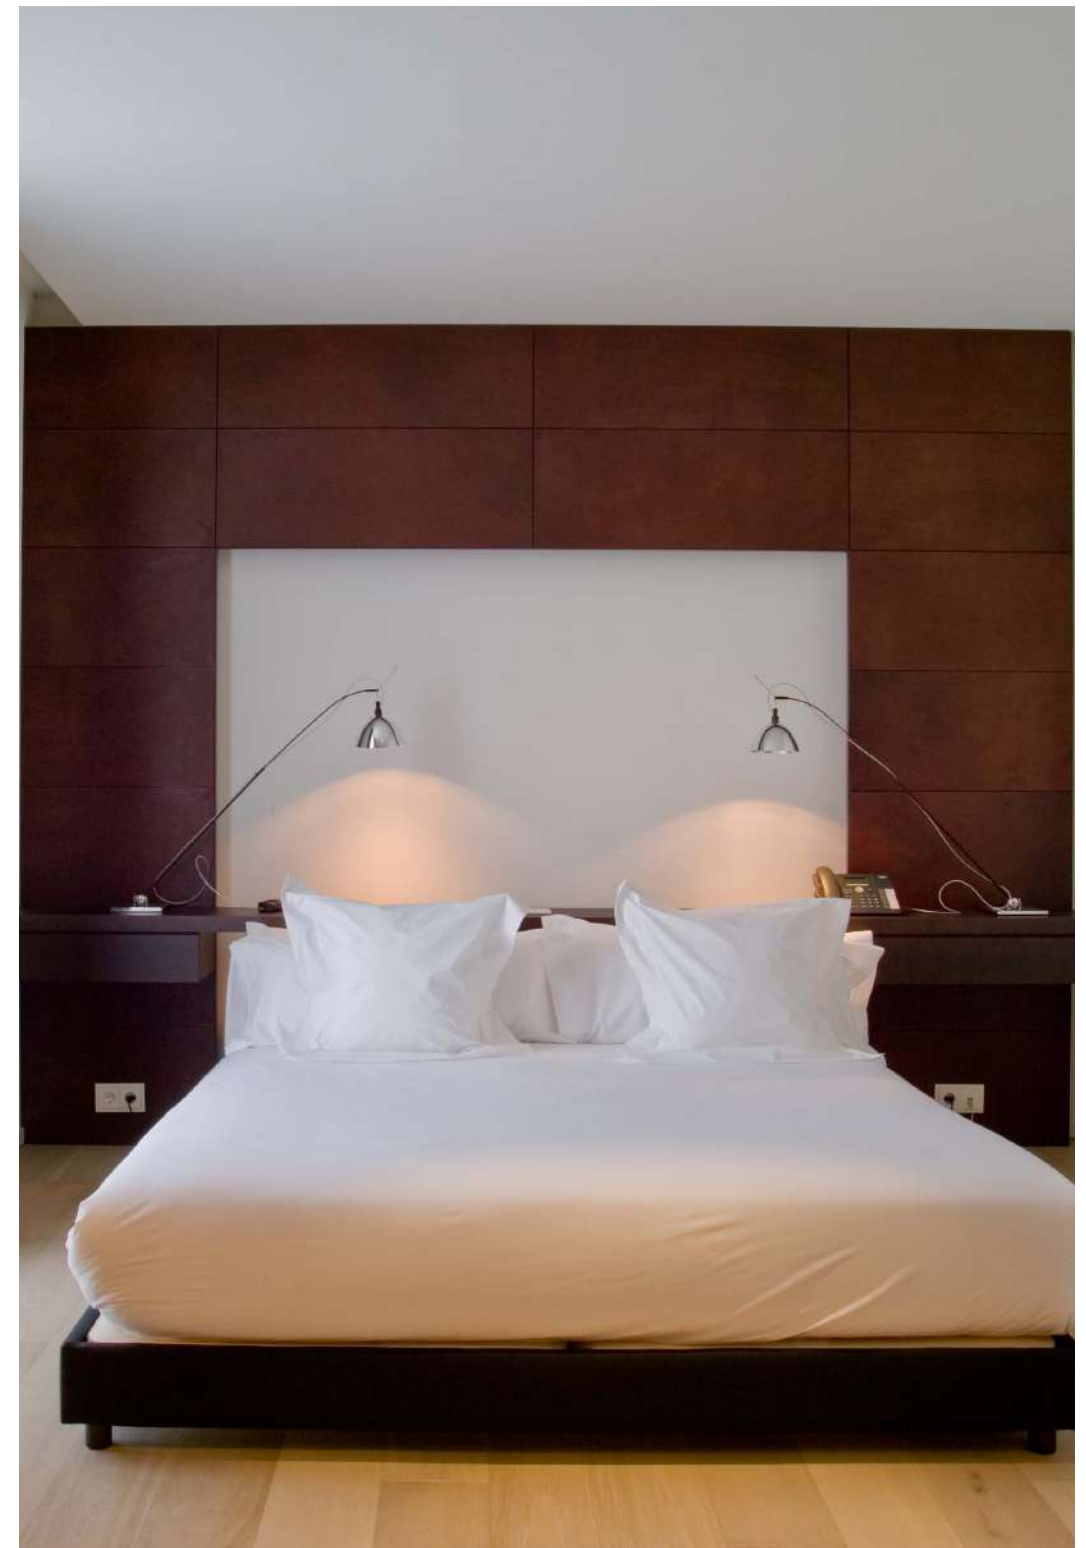

Its smart refurbishment has brought out its original splendour while introducing a contemporary touch through the choice of materials, its natural light and interior design. It has 14 rooms and 3 suites, equipped with all the comforts for leisure and work.

A blend of tradition and the contemporary, the Mercer Hotel Casa Torner i Güell is right in the heart of Vilafranca del Penedès, a town with a bustling trading and cultural life and in particular a long-standing winemaking tradition. It is an attractive hub for activities very close to Barcelona, where there is always something to see and do, and where rest and relaxation are assured.

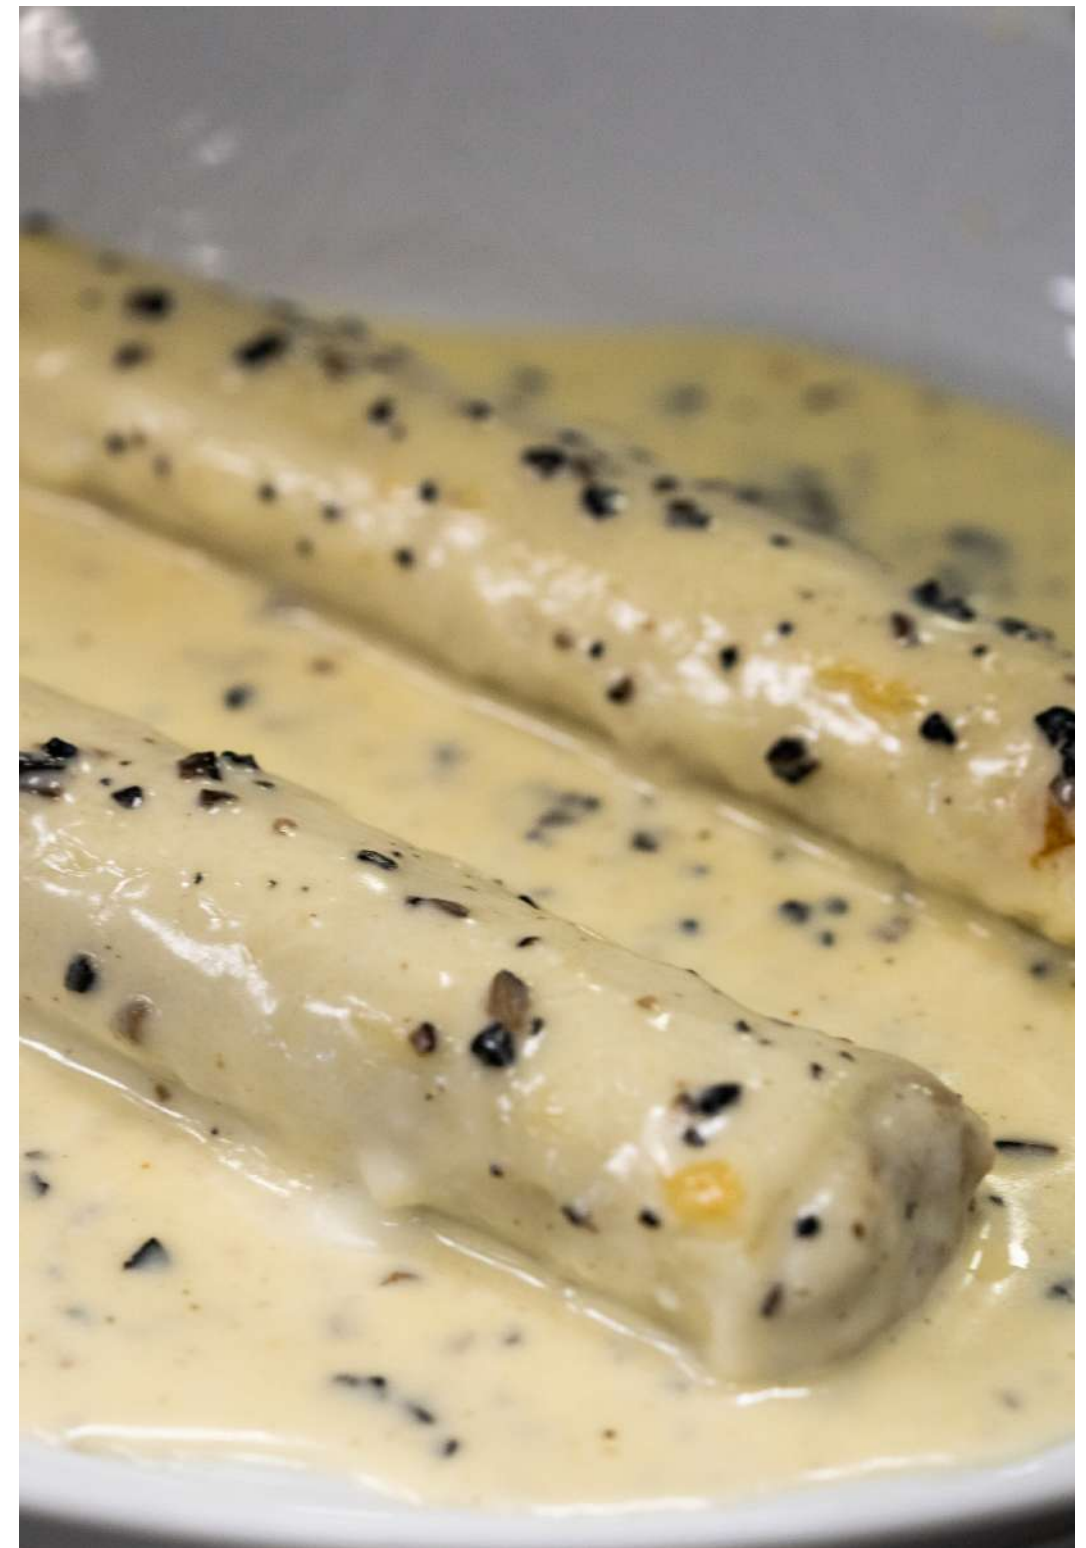

Each stay a great memory

The 14 rooms and 3 suites at the Mercer Casa Torner i Güell are arranged in a magnificent late 19th century modernist building, where historical elements are combined with contemporary design to create unique environments. Rooms are completely renovated, soundproofed and equipped. Elegant and functional, spacious and bright. With all the comforts for a pleasant stay. Welcome to the country of cava.

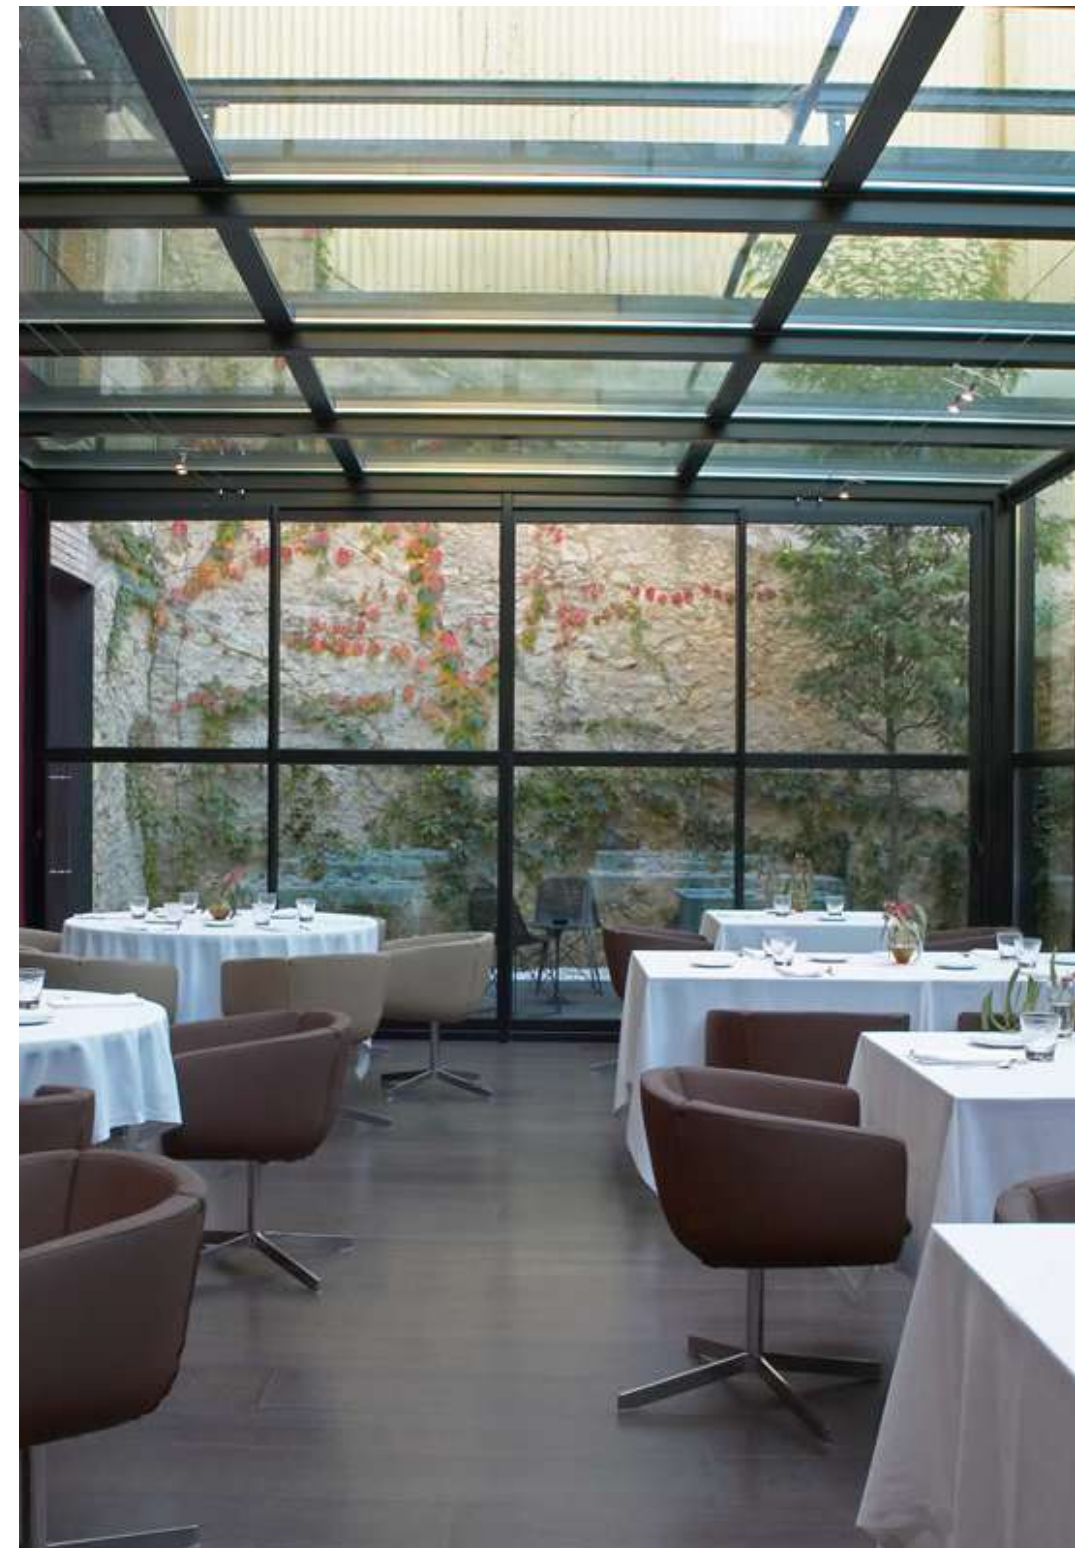

Traditional Catalan cuisine according to chef Carles Gaig

Carles Gaig is a model of contemporary Catalan cuisine, deserving of a Michelin star for several decades. At the new 'Cuina Gaig - Casa Torner i Güell' restaurant, he suggests some of the best Catalan traditional recipes and some of his classics dishes such as the 'Gaig's Cannelloni', as well as famous 'knife and fork' breakfasts (local style brunch) on Saturdays -market day in Vilafranca-.

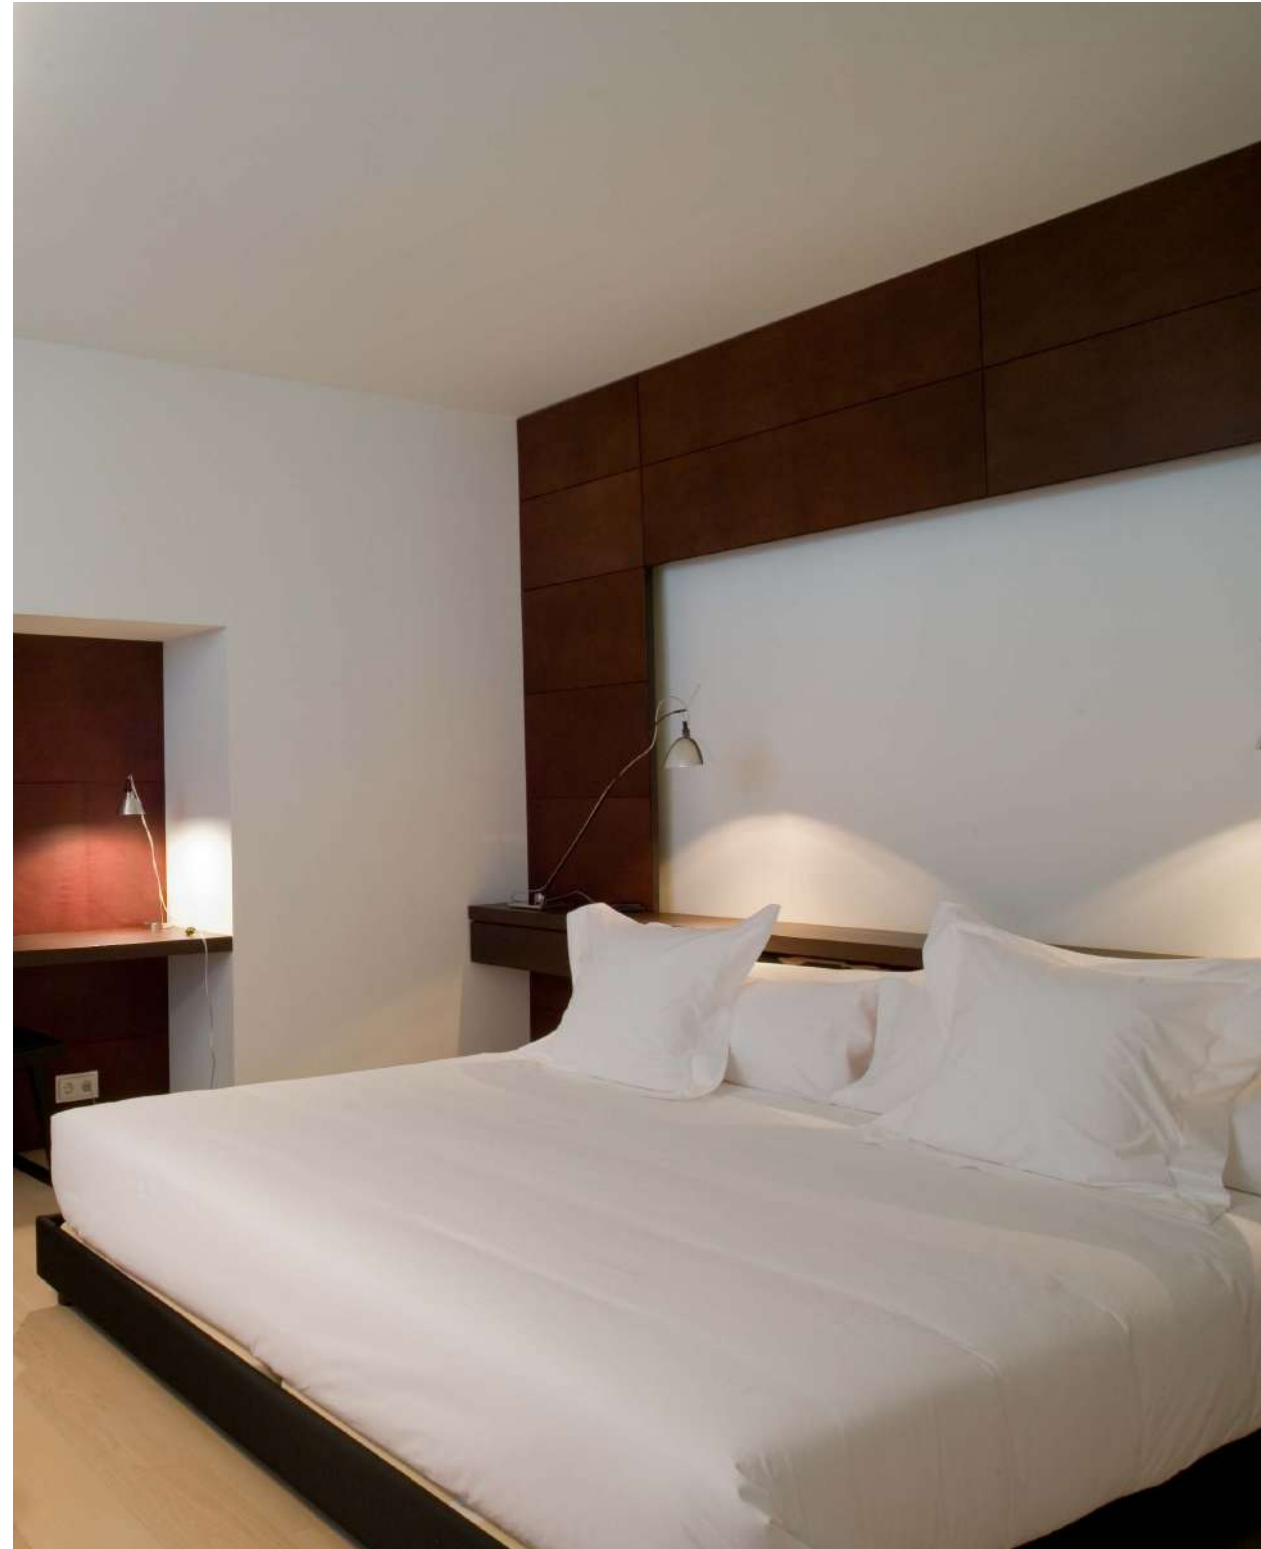

The sophistication of the past, the pragmatism of the present

The Mercer Casa Torner i Güell has a pleasant glazed restaurant, an interior courtyard, an adapted elevator as well as a parking near the property. The hotel also offers breakfast service.
